

Distribution of College Applications per Student

This chart shows the typical number of applications students submit.

- Many athletes are recruited and submit only one application.
- Most other students follow a bell curve, with the center of the curve being 6-7 applications.